

ORDERS FOR LCWR JOURNAL

CRA is now taking orders for the Summer 2022 edition “Recapturing Our Original Love”, the journal of the Leadership Conference of Women Religious (LCWR).

This edition is based on the premise that the love that first drew religious to this way of life can be a source of strength as we live through this challenging time of transition in religious life. That love can be a motivator that reminds us of our original desires to give of ourselves totally to something so much greater than ourselves.

Articles in this issue help readers explore how they might tap back into this original love religious often speak about – the love that began drawing them to this life often before they knew what the pull really was. How might an invitation to return to that original love/draw/pull help us through this challenging time? How might recapturing the love facilitate an openness to transformation?

The edition includes an interview with author and consultant Dr. Joni Carley, who promotes values-driven leadership and cultural development with the private sector and at the United Nations.
