

Hope for Religious Life

I hope there will be more people courageously and generously following God's calling, willing to stand up for their faith and let our heart be guided by the love of Christ.