

My hope for Religious Life in this moment of history

Life giving communities where all people feel welcome and encounter Jesus's love. More and more places of healing and hope that spring up throughout the world.